

Pop-Up Talent - Simplified Service Explanation

Pop-Up Talent makes hiring easy and affordable by giving businesses their own expert recruiter for whatever hours they need—no hiring fees, no long-term commitment, and fast access to great people.^{[1][2][3][4]}

What Does Pop-Up Talent Do?

- Pop-Up Talent gives companies their own dedicated recruiter who works like part of their team, virtually or onsite, for a simple flat hourly rate.^{[3][1]}
- The recruiter uses top tools (LinkedIn, Glassdoor, ZipRecruiter, and more) plus a huge database to find the best job candidates—fast.^{[2][1][3]}
- All candidates belong to the company (not to Pop-Up Talent), so businesses keep their own pipeline, even after recruiting ends.^{[1][2]}
- There are never any extra hiring or placement fees—just pay for the hours needed.^{[2][1]}

How It Works: Step by Step

1. Tell Pop-Up Talent what jobs need filling, share details about company culture, and what kind of people are wanted.^{[1][2]}
2. A Pop-Up recruiter gets assigned and starts searching for qualified candidates using all the best tools and resources.^{[3][2][1]}
3. The recruiter shares top candidates with the business, and helps schedule interviews or connects managers directly with talent.^{[5][2][1]}
4. Company hires who they want, keeps the candidate info, and can continue using Pop-Up Talent as needed—stop anytime.^{[6][2][3][1]}

Example: What Clients Provide & Get

- Companies can hire as many people as they want, or just fill one role—there's no limit.^{[6][3][1]}
- All recruiting is handled by experts, so there's no need to build an internal team or pay big agency fees.^{[4][2][1]}
- Businesses save money and time, while getting better talent than standard job boards or agencies.^{[2][5][1]}
